SMITH & HERRING

This office is getting out a handsome directory for the Hamilton Telephone Co. The work will be ready for delivery in a few days.

Hunters say the drought has greatly hampered dove shooting, as they are not in the hemp fields, but scattered along the branches and creeks.

About seventy-five persons went to Cincinnati on the excursion Sunday. There probably will be another excursion Sunday-week, the 27th, which will likely be the last.

Look and See.

Please look at the label on your paper, and, if not paid in advance, please call and settle, for Uncle Sam will be after both publisher and subscriber if subscription is not so paid.

Lige Hutchinson, the well known colored waiter, who was operated on by local physicians for strangulated hernia, is up and able to be out again. Lige is a good boy, and has many friends among the white people.

Underwood.

After a brief illness, Miss Theresa Underwood died at her home near Danville Saturday night. The funeral services were held Sunday, the remains being interred at the Lancaster Cemetery. She was widely known and greatly beloved by many friends, who deeply regret her death.

Sale of Gillispie Farm.

The Gillispie sale, last Thursday, was largely attended. The land, 635 acres, in all, brought the sum of $36,477.70. It was bought by Jas I Hamilton, of this city, who announced at sale that it was for sale now in quantities to suit the purchasers.

Boner.

Mrs Georgia Ann Boner, widow of the late John Boner, died at her home in Danville last week, in her sixty eighth year. She was widely known in Garrard county, where she spent most of her life, and her death is deplored by many warm friends. She was a good, Christian woman and will be greatly missed.

Rummage Sale.

The ladies of the C W H M., will have a rummage sale next week, and will be very thankful for any article contributed to the sale. They will have several of their members at the Storck store room, on Danville street tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday of this week to receive any donations. Look over your house and send any article you do not need, as they will probably find a ready sale and thus help in a noble cause.

Good For Harry.

The Washington Star of the 9th, said:—The Internal Revenue Office was surprised today by some important changes made by Commissioner Capers. Harry Giovannoli, chief clerk of the bureau since the regime of Commissioner Yerkes, gave way to John S Richardson, confidential clerk to Mr Capers, and resumes his former position as chief of the stamp division. Mr Giovannoli also loses no salary, going to $2,500 as chief of the stamp division, which has heretofore paid $2,250. Commissioner Capers makes the announcement that no demotion of Mr Giovannoli is intended, and that he has made the change because he desires a man of Mr Giovannoli's wide experience at the head of the most important division of stamps. The fact that Mr Giovannoli receives the same salary as he did as chief clerk, he says, shows what his intentions are.

Another Big Land Deal.

County Attorney Joe E Robinson, who knows a bargain when he sees it, realized the fact that J I Hamilton got a bargain in the Gillispie farm, of 635 acres, sold at the executor's sale on the 10th, and he paid him a profit for a half interest in it. It is undoubtedly the best improved farm in this county, the soil being fertile and it is located in one of the best sections in the county, being only two miles from the railroad and situated on a turnpike road, close to schools and churches and it is understood that a graded school will soon be established in that section. Considering all these advantages, it is believed that good citizens will purchase the farm if divided into several farms, which is suggested. Or it will be sold as a whole at a bargain. Prospective purchasers can apply to Hughes & Swinebroad, real estate dealers, or to Robinson and Hamilton, owners.

Big Show at Stanford.

Miller Bros 101 Ranch and Wild West will exhibit at Stanford, next Monday, the 21st, and a big crowd from this section will go over to see the show. The Miller Brothers are Kentuckians, coming, we believe, from Lincoln county. The show is one of the best west exhibitions on the road.

A Rare Old Violin.

Mr W R Vaughan, of this city, has in his possession a violin which has attracted much attention by reason of its age. It has been in his family for a great many years, and is in perfect condition. It bears the inscription, "Giovanni Paolo Maggini, Profeta, 1663, (Italy)." Mr Vaughan prizes the instrument highly.

Chartered A Train.

When Richmond people learned of the big fire at Paint Lick, an alarm was raised and more than 250 persons chartered a special train and hurried to the scene, thus lending great assistance. The Richmond people can always be relied upon to assist anyone in time of trouble, and we know their aid at this time will never be forgotten by the unfortunate citizens of the little city.

Richmond Court.

Register:—Monday was "mule day" in Richmond, and it is said that there were more of the long eared animals on the market than has been seen here in years. But few of them, however, changed hands, as most of the mules were small and the buyers, a number of whom were here would not buy them. Only about $75 was offered for the best ones and most of the farmers declined to let them go at this figure. There were not a great many cattle on the market and the prices were low.

The Drouth.

The scarcity of water, all over Kentucky, has been the source in inconvenience, and, in some places, has caused suffering. All the streams and many springs have quit business, and the farmers have suffered great loss. In several neighboring towns the authorities have ordered that no sprinkling be done, in order to save the water for fire protection. In Lancaster, however, the lake has held out remarkably well, and there is yet enough water for all purposes. Many cisterns are dry, however, and drinking water is very scarce.

Interest Increased.

Interest in the protracted meeting at the Baptist church increased this week, and, for the past few nights, the house has been packed almost to suffocation. Rev Mr Wright has been delivering excellent sermons, and his eloquence and sound arguments have had telling effect. There have been several additions to the church, while the interest awakened among church members will result in untold good.

A Curiosity.

Mr R H Bolter, of this county, brought to The Record office a tea pot which, for age and beauty, is a curiosity, indeed. It once belonged to Mrs Sally East, who died at the age of 95. It was for many years in possession of her mother, who died at the age of 95. It is estimated that the teapot is nearly three hundred years old. The decorations are quite pretty and are perfectly clear and plain. Mr Bolter has several other pieces of this old ware, which he prizes highly and would not sell at any figure.

A Burning Shame.

Fishermen have about "passed up" Dix river as a spot for sport, as there are no fish in the stream. As frequently stated in The Record, the seiners and dynamiters have played havoc, completely destroying the fish, both large and small. This is one of the greatest crimes perpetrated in the state, as there is no finer stream anywhere. We would delight to see some of the law-breakers sent to the penitentiary, but such a good thing will never happen.

Notice.

The Democratic County Committee of Garrard county is hereby called to meet in the County Court Room in the city of Lancaster from 2 o'clock p m to 4 o'clock p m Friday, September 25 1908 for the purpose of determining the time and manner of making nominations for all county offices to be voted for at the regular November election, 1909. All persons who are candidates for nominations by the party for the various county offices named are hereby notified to come before the county Committee at the said time and place.

Witness my hand this 14th September, 1908. W G Gooch Chm.

Every now and then some fellow attacks the Bible. Sometimes it is an ordained minister of the gospel; other times it is a layman. In every instance up to the time of going to press the Bible bore no evidence that it had been seriously damaged by the onslaught made upon it. The things that some of the fellows say about the inaccuracy of the sacred book may be true, and no doubt are, but that does not in the least lessen the magnificent teaching set out for the guidance of mankind. Suppose that the Bible is historically incorrect, and the mathematical calculations inaccurate. Does these so-called inconsistent things lessen one iota the beauty of the sermon on the Mount or vitiate the force of the Golden Rule? Suppose the Bible is full of the things that the critics say are out of harmony with nature and the finding of science. No one dare contend that its teachings of morality are in harmony with the highest ideals of possible human happiness. Suppose there are things in the Bible that do not square with known facts or that there are passages that the most learned cannot comprehend, there yet remains enough of the simple truths that any one can understand to make the book valuable beyond price. Any one can understand that whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do ye even so to them.

Word comes from theatrical centers that there is a shortage of chorus girls. This no doubt is due to the increased demand and to the further fact that the girls who have been on the stage for the last forty or fifty years have reached the age limit. Modern show taste has had something to do with the increased demand. There seems to be a feeling among play writers that the public demands something of the sensational and that this can be best met by an array of apparently plump females in diaphanous and other alluring rainnet. It is a question though if the majority of the playing public would not prefer some of the good old-time dramas in place of a lot of the spectacular stuff that is put on the stage today. The chorus girl certainly has had her day and it is time to return to the strictly legitimate play acting that pleases those of the last generation.

Mrs. Peck, wife of Harry Thurston Peck, author, editor, professor, historian, critic and general adviser to the public, recently obtained a divorce from her husband and on being asked to explain why she desired separation from a man of such all-round talent, was uncommunicative, but finally made this remark: "Prof. Peck has frequently been called a caustic critic. That is exactly what he was in his home." Some men never will learn to divorce business and pleasure. Caustic criticism in the home is quite another and more perilous thing than criticism in the safe pages of a magazine.

Over in Japan they have a sort of poetic justice that might be applied to certain cases in this country to the good of society. In the event that any one is adjudged insane and is a criminal he is punished just the same as though he were sane and his relatives within certain degrees of relationship are also punished for not keeping him restrained from committing depredations against society. If such proceedings were had in this country there would be fewer Thaw incidents.

The public official who can not withstand criticism should resign. It would be a fine condition of affairs indeed were the people not accorded the privilege of criticizing their servants. Every man who holds office should keep in mind at all times that he is not the master but the servant of the public. He has no mortgage on the official position to which they have selected him.

A writer in a popular magazine discusses the question of "The Scarcity of Skunks." If the writer had just waited a few weeks and then read with care the effusion of the partisan press of the country he would have discovered that there are plenty of the aforesaid animals. But, any way, mightily few people care how scarce skunks are. The fewer the better.

An editor of a paper in the northern part of the state was asked by an energetic subscriber "if he had paid," and at once the aforesaid editor began such a fiery tirade against the delinquent subscribers of his paper that the fire department was called out to reduce the temperature in the sanctum.

Down in one of the dry counties of the state the people are devoting a lot of time praying for rain. In other counties a lot of people are devoting a lot of time trying to make their counties dry. "Seems as though it is a difficult matter to satisfy all the people."

Recently a lawyer in New York died and before leaving he admonished his wife to put in the remaining days of her earthly existence in prayer.

Perhaps she would have done it any way, depending, of course, on the sort of husband she had lost.

It is a bit amusing to note the actions of so-called non-partisan temperance organizations during a political campaign. Non-partisan organizations managed by well known and active politicians is just a bit out of place.

No man is going to press the fact home to a girl that he is willing to die for her until he is dead certain that she doesn't want him to die.

Detroit has ten tons of bad eggs in stock. Wonder what particular theatrical troupe is to be handed a few of the mellowest ones.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

The Hustling City of Paint Lick Almost Wiped Off the Map by Flames.

Thursday night, about nine o'clock, fire was discovered in a stable in the rear of Champ & Co's. store in the thriving little city of Paint Lick. The alarm was given, and all hands rushed to the scene. Not having equipment for fighting fire, buckets had to be depended upon, but this proved of little assistance in the fight. The flames soon spread to Champ & Co's. store, and this large establishment was soon completely enveloped and burned to the ground. Little of the large stock was removed, so rapidly did the fire spread. The Peoples Bank, on right of this store, caught and only by the hardest fighting was the handsome structure saved. The fire continued to spread toward the creek, consuming the frame building and igniting the bridge over Paint Lick. From the bridge it continued to a livery stable, thence catching the barber shop and meat market. These were licked up in almost as little time as it takes to tell the story, and the large store of G. A. Ballard was in flames. This was quickly devoured, the flames leaping to the Veranda Hotel. The hotel was soon completely enveloped in flames and burned to the ground. In the meantime, the people were working like trojans to remove the contents of all the buildings, and, while quite a lot of goods were removed, yet they were badly damaged and some completely ruined by the hurried handling. Some of the guests at the hotel only saved a few of their belongings. The stocks of goods of E. C. McWhorter, A. B. Estridge, and J. M. Metcalfe's drug store were removed to the street, as it looked as if the entire town was doomed, and, had the wind been blowing left, there would have been nothing left. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one seems to know how it caught. In the stable, a portion of which had been converted into a warehouse, was a lot of machinery belonging to Mr. McWhorter and Mr. Ballard, and, as no one had occasion to be in the building, the origin is still more of a mystery.

The bank, while damaged by fire, lost nothing of its fixtures, and, as all books, etc., were in the splendid vault, they resumed business the next morning, as usual.

The losses are very heavy on those concerned, and the deepest sympathy is felt by all for those who were so unfortunate. The fire is a great calamity to the hustling city, but we are informed that the energetic citizens will at once take steps to rebuild the town, erecting modern, up-to-date business houses. The hotel lot, together with the land on which stood the Ballard and other structures, will now afford ample room to erect four large store rooms, and we are told by one of the leading citizens that steps will be taken at once to this end. Champ & Co., will erect a new building at once on the old site where their store was destroyed.

During the fire, Dr. Carman and Mr. Woods were painfully injured while fighting the fire in the bank building. The following is a fair estimate of losses and insurance: Champ & Co., loss on building $3,000, insurance $1,500; on stock $12,000, insurance $7,500; W. T. Anderson, meat market, $400, no insurance; W. C. Wynn, property occupied by G. A. Ballard store, Anthony Jet barber and Mrs. Annie Adams restaurant, livery barn, loss $3,000, insurance $1,500; G. A. Ballard, stock of goods, $10,000, insurance $6,500; Mrs. Annie Adams, restaurant, loss $150, no insurance; Rucker & Williams, hotel building and furniture, $4,000, insurance $1,500; J. M. Metcalfe, drug store, damage $75; A. B. Estridge, damage $5,000 on stock and building, fully insured; E. C. McWhorter, $1,000 damage on stock, fully insured; Peoples Bank damage to building $1,000, fully insured; Dr. Helm, damage $500, no insurance; Dr. Carman loss $500, covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by Mr. H. W. Morrison, a fire insurance agent who happened to be in town that night. All the insurance held on the different property was carried by W. G. Kemper's agency, and will be settled promptly, as is always the case when business is entrusted to him.

How to get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case, a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at R. E. McRoberts' drug store. 50c.

Dr. Pearce Will Return.

His legion of Lancaster friends are delighted to know that Dr. E. H. Pearce has been returned as pastor of the local Methodist church. Dr. Pearce was pastor here for several years and his faithful services were greatly appreciated by our people. Mr. Williams the present pastor, has been assigned to the church at Salina.

Bruce.

Mr. George H. Bruce, well known to many Lancaster people, and highly respected by all who knew him, died in Boston, last week, after a brief illness. Mr. Bruce married Miss Saline Brown, a daughter of the late Judge Eph Brown, of this city, who survives him. The remains were brought to Danville for interment.

Masonic Election.

At the election of officers of Lancaster Chapter, No. 66, Royal Arch Masons the following were chosen: W. O. Hynes high priest; Louis Landram, king; Lewis Walker, scribe; Lewis Gill, secretary; J. R. Haselden, treasurer. The following officers were then appointed: Henry Simpson, Master 1st Veil, M. D. Sherrow, Master 2nd Veil, Jacob Joseph, Master 3rd Veil, Henley Bastin, Principal Bojournier, J. W. Sweeney, Royal Arch Captain, J. M. Rothwell, Captain of Host, G. S. Greenleaf, Sentinel.

Friends of Col M F Elkin, State Commander of the Maccabees, whose headquarters are in Lexington, but who still retains his citizenship in his old home county of Lincoln, have started a boom for him for State Senator in the district composed of the counties of Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln and Casey. There is no question but what Col Elkin is splendid senatorial timber and his extensive acquaintance and wide popularity in that section would insure him a strong following. The Frankfort State Journal comments editorially on Col Elkin's fitness for the honor as follows:

"A dispatch in yesterday's Courier Journal says that the Senatorial job in the Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln and Casey district seems likely to go to a beginner. We do not presume to dictate to the democrats of that section, but having spent a large part of our life there, we retain a lively interest in all things pertaining to it. There fore, we are induced to make a suggestion. Four years ago Col M F Elkin, who still holds Stanford as his home and votes there, announced for the office of Senator, but subsequently withdrew in the interest of harmony and Hon Took Hubble was elected in the very close district. The friends of Col Elkin, who knew his ability and worth, think that now is a good time to reward him for his sacrifice four years ago, and his unwavering fight for Democracy.

"We know Col Elkin well; know he is worthy and well qualified, and throw out the suggestion as to his candidacy both in the interest of Democracy and a compliment to one of its faithful followers."

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

At the solicitation of many friends and business men, Mr W. H. Burton has consented to announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative of Garrard county in the next General Assembly. Mr Burton has been a life-long Democrat, but has never taken an active part in politics-in fact he is the type of citizen who has always weighed well the qualification of candidates for nomination by his party before casting his ballot. He has been very successful in business, and is a man of sound and safe judgment. The Central Record, as our subscribers know, has always been perfectly free from any party prejudice and feeling, it's editor advocating and voting for the man he thought best suited for office, and the fact that a business man like Mr Burton has consented to be a candidate is the source of much gratification to us, for, as you know, the time has arrived when the people must send men to the Legislature who will make and frame laws conducive to the best interest of the people. The custom of sending some politician to the Legislature has proven disastrous to Kentucky, and the sooner the people cut it out, the better for the interests of the state. Mr Burton is no politician, in fact has never taken an active part in politics-he is a good business man, and just such a person as should be given a seat in our law making body. We should send men there who have no political axes to grind, and who will not use their votes in the interest of some clique or clan. Considering these facts, we take pleasure in placing his announcement in these columns.

Elkin Boomed.

At the solicitation of many friends and business men, Mr W. H. Burton has consented to announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative of Garrard county in the next General Assembly. Mr Burton has been a life-long Democrat, but has never taken an active part in politics-in fact he is the type of citizen who has always weighed well the qualification of candidates for nomination by his party before casting his ballot. He has been very successful in business, and is a man of sound and safe judgment. The Central Record, as our subscribers know, has always been perfectly free from any party prejudice and feeling, it's editor advocating and voting for the man he thought best suited for office, and the fact that a business man like Mr Burton has consented to be a candidate is the source of much gratification to us, for, as you know, the time has arrived when the people must send men to the Legislature who will make and frame laws conducive to the best interest of the people. The custom of sending some politician to the Legislature has proven disastrous to Kentucky, and the sooner the people cut it out, the better for the interests of the state. Mr Burton is no politician, in fact has never taken an active part in politics-he is a good business man, and just such a person as should be given a seat in our law making body. We should send men there who have no political axes to grind, and who will not use their votes in the interest of some clique or clan. Considering these facts, we take pleasure in placing his announcement in these columns.

It's a pity when one's drug the stomach or stimulate the heart and kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak stomach means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the heart and kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping stomach, heart and kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the falling "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by R. E. McRoberts.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Poorly, not one weak heart in a hundred is actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden but real nerve weakness. This obscure nerve—the cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply sends and must have more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves. This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has inside part does so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, exhausting, suffering heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is also directed to these weak and ailing nerve centers. It builds up strength; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong heart, strong digestion, strengthen the heart—re-establish them as needed.
